The Shortlist For The Guild Awards Of Excellence 2017 Has Been Announced!

At the start of this year we launched The Guild Awards of Excellence 2017 – the only industry awards not to be decided by an expert panel.

Here at The Guild, we believe that the people most qualified to know who serves the industry best are our members. In January, we invited you-the therapists and technicians – to nominate the suppliers and trainers in the beauty, holistic and nails industry who have really impressed you.

We wanted to know who offers you the best service in a number of specific fields. So with a massive 20 categories in total, covering a wide range of the industry, we asked you to nominate your favourite companies in each award.

You voted in your thousands, the nominations have been counted and the shortlist for The Guild Awards of Excellence 2017 has now been announced! You can see the shortlist further on in the magazine.

So what happens now? You now need to vote for your winners from the shortlist. Votes can be made by visiting Beautyguild.com and clicking on 'Guild Awards'.

Final voting closes Friday 17th March, with the winners being announced on Wednesday 22nd March and detailed in the May/June 2017 issue of Guild Gazette.

HOW TO VOTE

Vote now by visiting beautyguild.com and clicking on 'Guild Awards*'. Voting closes on Friday 17th March. The winners of The Guild Awards of Excellence 2017 will be announced on Wednesday 22nd March and featured in the May/June issue of Guild Gazette.

The Guild: Out & About

Here we summarise the exciting beauty events and launches The Guild Marketing and Editorial team have been attending over the last couple of months.

THE EVOLUTION OF ESPA

In January, Guild Editor, Rebecca Archer was invited to an exclusive event in Soho, London to celebrate 25 years of the spa and skincare brand ESPA.

In an extremely stressful era of 24/7 connectivity, ESPA's wellness and heritage approach is more relevant than ever and offers the perfect counter to today's anxiety filled, fast paced, frantic world. Founder of ESPA, Sue Harmsworth, MBE says, "We've spent the last decade focusing on looking after our bodies. We'll spend the next decade looking after our minds." To reflect this philosophy, the ESPA brand has evolved to not only help customers to look and feel their best, but the sensorial power and scientifically advanced formulations of each of ESPA's products help to bring body and mind back into beautiful balance.

Visitors to the event were treated to a preview of the brand's packaging refresh, designed to make it easier to navigate, explore and buy ESPA products. Rebecca also experienced a five minutes taster of ESPA's new Mindful Massage. This innovative treatment utilises breathing and visualisation techniques and warm Rose Quartz Crystals to help the client unwind a busy mind, escape the pace of everyday life and emerge feeling focussed with a sense of renewed positivity.

Clarins Multi Active Eye

Late nights, trouble sleeping, hectic days... Sound familiar? Clarins have launched an eye care product inspired by the latest technological advances in plant power that will counteract the effects of a stressful lifestyle.

At the heart of this product lies teasel extract. Beneath its prickly exterior, teasel extract helps to revitalise and protect tired, stressed skin by encouraging the production of the energising molecule Adenosine Tri-Phosphate (ATP) that helps fight free radicals. The fatigue fighting properties of teasel extract limit the porosity of blood capillaries helping to fight dark circles and puffiness.

The refreshing cream-gel texture infused with illuminating pigments, smoothes and optically blurs the look of fine lines to give an immediate smoothing effect. The cryo-metal tip instantly lightens and brightens the eye area.

Flutter Your Lashes This Valentine's Day

GTi Eyelash Extensions

Our eyes are one of the first things that people notice about us, and one of the first places people can fall in love with us. It is often said that eyes are the windows to the soul, and it for this reason that people have paid close attention to how they are presented for many centuries.

Well defined eyes can show off the face to its full potential. Dating back to the ancient Egyptians, eye treatments have formed a core part of the daily beauty routine, and so this can become a valuable element of your treatment menu.

Help your clients' eyes say 'I love you' this Valentine's day, by offering them an Eyelash Extension treatment.

In recent years, eyelash treatments have seen a huge surge in popularity. In our modern day 'quick-fix' society, clients no longer want the hassle of applying make-up each morning. Instead they are looking for professional, long-lasting results such as extension treatments, which can last up to eight weeks.

Eyelash extensions are a move away from the traditional strip lashes that everyone has painstakingly tried to apply at one time or another. Instead, these are individual lashes which are added to the clients own natural lash for a truly fabulous effect. Clients can achieve anything from dramatically sweeping lashes to a generally thicker and fuller effect.

The GTi Eyelash Extension course will teach you everything you need to know about offering a professional eyelash extension treatment and includes a practical training session and assessment.

This course follows the National Occupational Standards and covers the technique for eyelash extension application for both individual and flare as well as the correct removal and maintenance of lashes. The course includes anatomy and physiology of the hair and eye, contra-indications and contra-actions to treatment and consultation and aftercare advice.

This GTi Award is fully accredited for insurance and membership by The Guild of Beauty Therapists, the UK's leading professional beauty trade body.

The course costs £195 + VAT and on completion of the course, successful students will receive a GTi certificate and 21 CPD points.

For more information on the GTi Eyelash Extensions Course, please visit www.beautyguildtraining.com or call a member of the GTi Team on 0845 2177 386

GELLUX

Salon System GELLUX Nail Technician, Julie-Anne Larivière has created this gorgeous valentines inspired step-by-step using GELLUX 'Bare Necessities', 'Black Onyx', 'Meteorite' and 'Purely White'.

Recreate this look:

Apply two coats of GELLUX 'Bare Necessities' on the thumb, middle and little fingers.

Using GELLUX 'Purely White' paint the letters 'L' and 'O' onto the index finger and add small dots around the heart on the ring finger.

Holistic Horizons

Indian Head Massage, by Rose Panton

Indian Head Massage is a holistic treatment based on the Ayurvedic system of healing which has been practised in India for over a thousand years. Over the past decade it has gained huge popularity and is now one of the most popular holistic therapies available.

Indian Head Massage involves a massage to the head, neck and shoulders. This deep massage uses a variety of pressure and techniques that tap into your seven 'chakras' and encourages balance and healing within the whole body.

One reason Indian Head Massage has gained such popularity with both clients and therapists over recent years is that it requires very little equipment and space. The treatment can be performed through clothing in a seated position, making it ideal for small salons or mobile therapists.

As the name suggests, this form of massage started in India and has been practised for over a thousand years.

The traditional head massage once formed a vital part of Indian family life, with regular massages being given to the infants from birth.

Indian Head Massage was introduced to the West by osteopath and massage therapist Narendra Mehta, who came to England to study physiotherapy in London. Disappointed to find the head massage wasn't practised in the UK he introduced the therapy in 1981.

To this day most therapists still practice his technique, however it has evolved to incorporate other parts of the body vulnerable to stress including the shoulders, back, neck and upper arms.

Learn everything you need to know about Indian Head Massage with the GTi Indian Head Massage Course. This course will teach you all about offering a professional head massage treatment and includes a practical training session and assessment.

This GTi Indian Head Massage course follows the National Occupational Standards and covers all the necessary anatomy & physiology, plus reception, consultation, aftercare guidance and contra-indications to treatment.

This course covers the technique for upper back, shoulder, upper arm, neck, scalp and face massage. It also includes the theory behind Indian Head Massage such as the history of the treatment, principles of Ayurveda, marma points and chakras.

The course costs £195 + VAT and on completion, students will earn 29 CPD points.

For more information on GTi Indian Head Massage, please visit www.beautyguildtraining.com, or call a member of the GTi Team on 01332 224833

dermalogica®

Dermalogica is the number one choice of skin care professionals and consumers worldwide. While the Dermalogica story begins in 1986, the force of change in the industry started in Los Angeles, circa 1983. Jane Wurwand, a tenured, UK trained skin therapist, new to the American “esthetician” industry, recognised that continuing skin and body therapy education was practically non-existent in the US. While her UK based training had been comprehensive and serious, US students entered the industry licensed yet under-trained, and worse, under-respected.

Jane put her education in action, opening a small classroom in California called The International Dermal Institute (IDI). She invited licensed skin therapists to get hands-on with the postgraduate training, so critical to making them competitive in the business. Today, IDI is considered the international gold-standard for postgraduate skin and body therapy training with 37 locations worldwide.

While teaching at IDI, it didn’t take long for Jane to realise no product line embraced her belief of skin health as opposed to “beauty,” so she developed her own. And in 1986, Dermalogica was born. The vision was clear – a product line free of common irritants and only including ingredients that would improve skin health, and that were only available under the advice of a skin care professionals trained at the IDI.

Dermalogica is not pretty (Or beautiful. Or pampering. Or luxury.) They are far too interested in guiding you to a new level of skin health fitness! So, while their packaging may not be designed to colour-coordinate with your bathroom, you can always be sure that the ingredients they use will work – their confidence is founded on skincare professionals worldwide who use the products in their treatment rooms every day because they get results.

As proud sponsors of The Guild Skincare Survey, Dermalogica are pleased to offer a one lucky person who completes the survey a Skin Health Hamper containing a great selection of their best selling products, worth over £500.

For the chance to win this prize, please visit the Beauty Industry Survey section on:

GAZELLI ACADEMY

OPEN DAY AND COURSE INTRO'S AT GAZELLI TRAINING ACADEMY

Launched earlier this year, the Gazelli Academy Training aims to raise the standard of knowledge and practice in the beauty and spa industry, transforming therapists into experts.

Headed by Gazelli's Head of Education, Alicia Falero, the Academy's mission is to educate and inspire both those starting a career in the spa industry, and those looking to enhance their existing knowledge.

The all-encompassing, definitive and holistic courses combine hands on technique with concise, relevant theory based on anatomy and physiology. The content for each module has been designed to ensure all skills gained are easily transferrable, focusing on both the student's current abilities and their career goals.

Gazelli is dedicated to ensuring each graduate qualifies with a thorough education and understanding of skin. Their vision is to generate and support a new wave of Skin and Body Experts to raise the standard of expertise in the industry, and gain back the trust of clients. All of the courses have been accredited by The Guild and awarded CPD credit of 22 points on attendance for each.

Their open day and course intro's will commence from mid- February. The next evening will be Monday 13th February and they will run every Mondays & Thursday evenings 5.30-6.30PM.

Open days will run continuously each month subject to interest, please email academy@gazelli.co.uk to register your interest to secure attendance. For more information on Gazelli Training Academy, visit: www.gazelliskincare.com/gazelli-academy/

JUST PAMPERED TRAINING ACADEMY WELCOMES NEW TUTOR

Opened in 2011 by Kerry-Lee Draper, Just Pampered Training Academy was originally formed to train internal staff at her beauty salon. The academy grew as news spread amongst other local salon owners, and word of mouth saw the academy go from strength to strength.

This year has seen the introduction of new Guild Accredited courses including Lash Lifting, Threading Hair Removal, Maternity Massage, Reflexology and many more. The academy has also introduced more regular training dates, thanks to the help of new Guild Accredited tutor Anamika Chavda.

Anamika has over 12 years' experience in the industry and is an expert in the courses she teaches. Kelly-Lee said, "Anamika is still very much hands on with treatments within a salon, and is up to date with the latest trends and client demands as well as delivering high quality training. We are so happy to have her as part of the team"

Just Pampered Training Academy now offers courses from two Essex premises in Chelmsford and Rayleigh.
